STATE OFFICIALS ARE SUED

SENATE TAKES UP NAVY BUILDING BILL

CRUISER BILL IS FACING LONG ERA DEBATE AND DELAY

WILL SHARE COMMON EXPERIENCE OF BOULDER DAM AND KELLOGG TREATY

(AP)—Unless all signs fail, the cruiser bill faces in the senate something of the experience that Boulder Dam and the Kellogg treaty have already gone through at this session—days of debate and controvery, before the final vote.

The senate had the measure befor it today, having heard Senator Swanson, Democrat, Virginia, declare that in his belief the bill would in reality be a peace measure, since it would serve notice if passed, that the United States intended for her navy to be equally as strong as that of England. The senator from Virginia took the view this would cause Great Britain to decide that a pact for naval equality and a further discussion of armament limitation was necessary.

There was no indication that Swanson's speech had changed the minds of the group opposed to the building of 15 cruisers and one aircraft carrier. The leaders of this group come mostly from the Middle West. Senator Norris of Nebraska has not the least liking for the proposed measure and has said so, and others who apparently share his opinion include Brookhart of Iowa, Nye and Frazier of North Dakota, and King of Utah, a Democrat.

Supporters of the bill are confident when the final roll is called it will pass with votes to spare and think the question is whether it can go through in the form provided by the house when it passed that body at the last session.

Under those terms 15 cruisers of 10,000 tons each and one aircraft carrier of 13,800 tons were provided for at an estimated cost of $274,000,000. A time limit of three years was set for the construction.

President Coolidge favors the bill but his recommendation that the time limit of three years for building the ships be removed has caused dissention. Chairman Hale of the senate naval committee, who

BEAUMONT YOUTHS DRAW HEAVY PRISON TERMS IN LOUISIANA

LAKE CHARLES, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Pleading guilty to charges of breaking and entering in the night time, of grand larceny, and of shooting with intend to murder, Edmond Parker, 17, and Philip Garlaska, 18, both of Beaumont, Texas, were sentenced by Judge Cline in district court today to a minimum term of twenty years in the state penitentiary at hard labor.

The charges were the result of a series of burglaries in Calcasieu parish during the last week. Almost all of the property the youthful bandits procured in the robberies, estimated in value by officials as being close to $1000 was recovered yesterday.

Oil Soaked Song Book Discovered In Church Ruins

FORT WORTH, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A song book apparently saturated with kerosene and found in the wreckage of the First Baptist Church by city detectives, was turned over to District Attorney Stuart today as the latest development in the probe under way since the church and annex building went up in flames last Saturday.

Loss from the church and annex fire is placed approximately at $400,000.

THE RUTH FAMILY IN HAPPIER DAYS

In the off season the Ruths enjoyed life "on the farm" at Sudbury, Mass., where this intimate photo was taken a few years ago. It was here that the home run king retired to get into condition after a batting slump that caused sports writers to predict that he could "never come back."

KING OF SWAT IS GRIEF STRICKEN AT BIER OF DEAD WIFE

OFFICIAL INQUIRY INTO THE DEATH OF RUTH'S WIFE IS FINALLY CLOSED

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Simple funeral services were held today for Mrs. Helen Woodford Ruth, wife of Babe Ruth, who died in a fire in Watertown Friday.

Ruth sat through the brief services in silence, except when he burst into sobs. Tears streamed down his face when he entered the small parlor in the Doodford home and knelt beside the coffin in which the body of his wife lay.

BOSTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Babe Ruth saw the face of his dead wife for the first time in the early morning hours today after a hurried trip through cold and deserted streets to the home of her family in South Boston. The body had been brought back to family and friends late last night after a few day's official inquiry into circumstances of her tragic death had finally closed.

Ruth prayed at the casket, banked with flowers which he had sent. The greatest of home run hitters was stricken with grief. He said he would return for the funeral services in the house and at the grave today.

Miss Joana Woodford, sister of Mrs. Ruth, collapsed as the casket was brought into the living room. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees; Miller Huggins, manager of the team, Lou Gehrig, fist baseman and Ruth's chief competitor for home run honors, and Herbert Pennock, pitcher of the team, all were represented by floral tributes.

Babe bought a grave in Cavalry cemetery. Tomorrow morning there will be a requium mass at St. Augustine's church, South Boston. Ruth arranged to leave for New York after the funeral today, taking with him nine-year-old Dorothy, daughter of Babe and Mrs. Ruth. Babe went to the Academy of the Assumption at Wellesley yesterday for the child.

District Attorney Robert T. Bushnell and State Fire Marsnal George C. Neal in statements set at rest any suspicion that Mrs. Ruth's death last Friday night in a fire at the home in Watertown of Dr. Edward H. Kinder, Boston dentist, was not accidental.

Mrs. Ruth had been known to neighbors as Mrs. Helen Kinder for more than a year.

Schooner Seized Captain Held On Smuggling Charge

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 17.—(AP)—The immigration authorities here today announced the seizure of the schooner Fannie B. Atwood at Brunswick, Ga., and the arrest of its captain, John Souza, sought for the past four years as head of one of the largest alien smuggling rings in the south which was responsible, they said, for the illegal entry of hundreds of aliens into the United States.

DEATH SENTENCE IS GIVEN BEN ALDRIDGE, WHO ADMITTED HE ASSAULTED DALLAS GIRL

225-Pound Man Thrown Out By 95-Pound Wife

CHICAGO, Jan. 17—(AP)—Policeman John Belskey weighs, in his stocking feet and without his artillery, 255 pounds avoirdupois. Mrs. Belskey's best weight is 95 pounds.

Belskey, suing for divorce, charges cruelty. He says his wife took his revolver away from him, slapped his face, sat on him, punched his jaw and capped the pugnacious climax by throwing him out of the house.

The court will see about it.

DALLAS, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Ben Aldridge, 24, confessed robber and attacker of women, awaited today the fruition of his counsel's efforts to save him from the electric chair, to which he was sentenced for criminal assault by a jury here yesterday.

He was captured after a gun fight with officers, in which Lee Roy Merriman, a companion, also charged with criminal assault in two cases and robbery in three, was wounded slightly. Aldridge made a purported confession to the attack and other offenses, among which he listed the burglary of three Kaufman county farm homes and the rifling of postoffices in two Oklahoma towns. These "jobs," his statement said, were done on the day and night after he and another man, whom the state alleges was Merriman, held up, with pistols, an automobile "parked" near here, forced three young men out and took away the machine with three girls.

Miss Mae Sanderson, 17, engaged to be married, the prosecutrix in Aldridge's case, did not bring out in her testimony what happened to the two other girls.

Merriman will be tried later.

At the Aldridge trial conclusion, he was "rushed" through a secret passageway to the county jail, surrounded by officers. Some talk of mob violence, in the event of a verdict less severe than death, nad ben heard.

FORMER DEMOCRATIC STANDARD BEARER IN NATION-WIDE SPEECH

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith has asked popular contributions to liquidate the $1,500,000 deficit incurred by the democratic party in his unsuccessful campaign for president.

In a radio address last night Mr. Smith deplored the practice of having a few rich men meet party deficits and also urged the need for continued activity of the party throughout the four years between national elections.

He said he had agreed to turn over royalty rights to a book of his campaign speeches to the national committe as his contribution to the party war chest. Copies of the book will be sent to each contributor who sends in two dollars or more toward meeting the deficit.

An important function of a minority party. Mr. Smith said, was to keep the people informed on what progress was being made toward the solution of national problems as unbiased information could not be had from the party in power.

For this purpose he emphasized the need for year-around headquarters for the democratic national committee "where democrats throughout the nation may keep in

Benjamin Franklins Honor Memory Thrift Advocate in Chicago

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Several hundred Benjamin Franklins paid tribute today to their namesake in a series of commemoration exercises throughout the city in celebration of his 233rd birthday anniversary today.

The Benjamin Franklins— men whose given names are Benjamin Franklin—took the lead in the celebration. After a luncheon with the Union League club, the Benjamin Franklins were to lay a wreath at the foot of the monument to the "Printer of Philadelphia" in Lincoln Park.

HEALTH SCIENTIST MARTYR TO HUMANITY IN PELLAGRA WORK

DR. JOSEPH GOLDBERGER, PELLAGRA EXPERT, DIES OF UNKNOWN MALADY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. (AP)—Stricken while engaged in a study of the diets thought to cause the disease of pellagra, Dr. Joseph Goldberger, a United States public health service scientist, died today at the naval hospital here following an illness of several months. He was 54 years old.

The fatal illness, which started during his pellagra studies, however, was an enigma at his death to his fellow-scientists. A postmortem was planned by Dr. G. W. McCoy, director of the health service's hygienic laboratory and a close friend of Dr. Goldberger, to determine the cause of the illness.

Dr. G. W. McCoy said physicians attending the dead scientist, believed he suffered from some form of anaemia. They did not agree on the type of the disease, however, and later concluded that some other, undetermined infection was the primary cause of his sickness. His fatal illness occurred when he was experimenting with pellagra preventive foods.

Colleagues Give Blood.

Twenty of Dr. Goldberger's colleagues of the public health service volunteered for blood transfusions shortly after he became critically ill early in November, but after six operations this was abandoned as of no avail.

Before the fatal attack he had suffered three other severe illnesses—typhus fever, contracted 15 years ago while he was experimenting on it in Mexico City; yellow fever shortly after this, while he was working with this disease in New Orleans, and dengue fever while he was making a study of it in Brownsville, Texas.

Dr. Goldberg was born in Austria-Hungary but came to this country with his parents when he was about seven years old. He graduated from the Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York. He later entered the public health service.

Pellagra Work Greatest.

Dr. Goldberger's greatest achievement was his contribution to the world's knowledge of pellagra. His discoveries are believed to have saved thousands from succumbing to this malady. He is survived by his widow, three sons and a daughter.

During the 14 years in which Dr. Goldberger was in charge of public health investigations of pellagra, he showed the disease is due to an unbalanced diet, and demonstrated the means whereby it might be prevented and cured. His work contributed largely to the general knowledge of nutrition. He discovered the vitamine "PP" or pellagra preventitive, and showed that dried yeast contains it, and this is an inexpensive concentrated safeguard against the malady.

Several years ago, public health officials, said, pellagra was a common disease, particularly in Southern states, but measures taken as the result of Dr. Goldberger's discoveries have virtually erased pellagra from the list of dread diseases. A threatened widespread epidemic was prevented in the Mississippi Valley, they added, by distribution through the Red Cross of several carloads of yeast cakes.

LEGISLATIVE PROBE DEATH INMATE NEW MEXICO WELFARE HOME ORDERED BY GOVERNOR

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 17.—(AP)—A joint committee from both houses of the New Mexico legislature was ordered to come here today from Santa Fe to open investigation into the death last Sunday of Helen Askew, 18, of Portales, inmate of the New Mexico Girls' Welfare Home, a correctional institution.

The girl's death, a coroner's jury found yesterday, was caused by "the lack of water and an injection of twilight sleep administered by Dr. Evelyn Frisbie and Miss Bertha Lips" physician and superintendent respectively at the home.

It was brought out at the inquest that the drug was administered last Saturday night to Miss Askew and five other girls "to keep them quiet" when they created a disturbance in objecting to solitary confinement and bread and water died, which punishment was imposed for their escape from the home. Miss Lips said the injection was under Dr. Frisbie's direction.

Governor R. C. Dillon ordered the legislative investigation yesterday and said he personally would accompany the committee here to inquire into the conditions at the home. District Attorney Eugene Lujon said he was studying evidence brought out at the inquest with a view toward filing criminal charges against the principals in Miss Askew's death.

The six girls escaped last Wednesday and were captured and returned Friday. Miss Askew's companions testified they were placed in solitary cells and given nothing to eat that day, but that on Saturday a slice of bread and some water was permitted them. They refused the water, however, because they said they said it had medicine in it. Miss Lips testified the water contaned saltpeter.

Dr. N. K. Wilder, Albuquerque, testified at the inquest that use of twilight sleep was dangerous and had been virtually abandoned by the medical world because of that reason. He said it might easily cause death if administered to a person suffering from lack of water.

One of Miss Askew's companions testified she would have objected to injection of the drug but the fact "there were two deputy sheriff's there."

Heart disease was reported as the cause of the girl's death by the institution's officials, but her father, dissatisfied wth the explanation, asked an investigation.

SALVATION ARMY DISPUTE EXPECTED TO BE TAKEN TO COURT BY DEPOSED LEADER

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Peace in the prolonged struggle within the Salvation Army over its leadership and administration may be in sight in the view of well informed circles within the army.

While nothing authoritative came from the deposed general, Bramwell Booth, and the impression all along has been that he was likely to resist giving up his post, the feeling was gaining ground today that he and his family eventually would acquiese to the council's desire that he retire, expressed by such a large majority last night.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—It was assumed today that the high council of the Salvation Army would choose tomorrow a successor to General Bramwell Booth, who has been voted unfit to command.

Foremost among those suggested in Army circles for the Generalship were Commander Evangeline Booth his sister, who heads the Army in the United States and led the victorious reform element, and Commissioner Edward J. Higgins of London, the Army's chief-of-staff.

The General's next move was eagerly awaited, there being indications it would be to carry the fight to the courts. The Daily Mail today quoted him as saying:

"I haven't much money but I will spend what I have in defending my position.

"Nothing will induce me to retire from the position I occupy. It was and is a sacred trust imposed on me by my father and it is not for me to lay it down. I should be a coward—worse than a coward, a skunk—if I do so because there is a bit of rumpus, and I won't.

"I will resist by every means in my power every attempt to deprive me of my trust."

Should the matter reach the courts it was assumed that legality of the council's action would turn on what constituted unfitness.

The Daily Herald said interpretation of the word "unfitness" developed considerable heat in the council session.

The General has been ill but he asked a little time to recuperate, before decision as to his unfitness was made.

The General was judged unfit by a vote of 55 to 8 after a council session of fourteen hours. Every territorial commander voted the General unfit except his daughter, Colonel Mary Booth.

Every member of the council was weeping, especially the aged members who had worked long years with the general. Evangeline Booth broke into sobs after she signed the resolution.

Original Wild Man of Borneo Dies a Pauper

PLATTESVILLE, Wis., Jan. 17.—(AP)—The original "Wild Man of Borneo" was buried in Greenwood cemetery yesterday.

"Sylvester Hendershot" was the name they put on the headstone. He was 82 years old, and has spent his last years, broken in health, at the Grant county poor farm.

For 20 years Hendershot was Barnum's "wild man." Then came domestic trouble, and the wife of "The Wild Man of Borneo," and their five children, left him.

Hendershot was found in a shack near the farm last week, cold, hungry and dying.

IMPROVEMENT IS NOTED IN FOCH'S ILLNESS THURSDAY

PARIS, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Marshal Foch's physicians issued this bulletin today:

"A slight improvement noted during the last three days continues.

(Signed) Daveniecres."

PARIS, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Marshal Foch today was holding his own against the dread enemy—death.

Everything devoted skill of the best physicians and the unremitting care of nurses and his family could do was being done to aid him. He showed a willingness and cheerfulness to second the efforts made in his behalf.

All who saw him were touched by his demeanor. Father L'Hande, his spiritual adviser, spoke of the soldier's admirable faith and resigation for whatever might come. While they held no illusions the doctors and the family felt justified today in having a little more hope.

Oil Operator Victim of Hit and Run Driver

FORT WORTH, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Hit and run driving claimed another victim last night when Jack J. King, 27, of San Angelo, was injured fatally on the Weatherford road when hit by an automobile. He died in a Fort Worth hospital at 9:20 a. m. today.

King and F. L. Keller, also of San Angelo, were changing a tire on their car ten miles west of Fort Worth. According to a report to police, the driver of the passing car did not stop to render aid. Keller could give only a vague description of the automobile.

King, an independent oil operator, received a fractured skull, internal injuries and crushed hips. Keller was only cut on the face and body.

QUAKE REGISTERED

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The seismograph at Fordham university today recorded a severe earthquake which probably originated in the Caribbean sea. The first shock was recorded at 6:52 a. m., reached its maximum intensity at 7:05 and ceased at 8:30.

MRS. M'CALLUM AND R. M. TILLEY NAMED IN DAMAGE CASE

GOLDEN ROD OIL COMPANY ALLEGES THREATS-LITIGATION DAMAGED FIRM

AUSTIN, Jan. 17. (AP) Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, and R. M. Tilley, assistant attorney general, are named as defendants in a $1,300,000 damage suit filed in federal court here today by the Golden Rod Oil Company, of Delaware. R. J. Randolph and John W. Martin, assistant secretaries of state also are named as defendants.

The suit alleges that the defendants, through threats and litigation following a dispute over an allegedly unreasonable franchise tax assessed the Golden Rod company, made themselves parties to a conspiracy to harrass the company and drive it out of Texas.

Statement of Case

The company was given a permit to do business by Mrs. Emma Grigsby Meharg, former secretary of state and at the end of the first year of business, the suit alleges, the present secretary of state sought to collect a franchise tax on the whole capitalization of the Golden Rod company, instead of the capital employed in Texas. The plaintiffs say that approximately half of the company's capital was employed in Texas. On top of this, the Golden Rod company was assessed a penalty of 25 percent, according to papers in the suit, and when it refused to pay, under this system of computing the tax, was threatened with suit.

This suit was filed eventually by Assistant Attorney General R. M. Tilley. The suit sought to recover the tax, appoint a receiver for the

FLOOD OF BILLS SWAMP COMMITTEES OF TEXAS HOUSE

NUMEROUS MEASURES CAUSE COMMITTEES SEEK BREATHING SPELL FOR WORK

AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—(AP)—House committees today were buried under such a mass of bills that a day's "breathing spell" was asked while they rolled up their sleeves to consider 304 measures introduced since the 41st legislative session got under way.

The committee on fish and game was expected to take some action on a bill calling for a fish, game and oyster commission of six members, together with an executive secretary and assistant, to replace the present commission. Several companion measures relating to leasing of University oil lands were on the table for consideration by the public lands and buildings group. The appropriations committee continued to hear pleas for emergency aid from presidents of state-owned colleges, which already have been placed before the senate.

One house bill was passed today. It was a local measure introduced by Representative W. R. Montgomery, Edinburg, providing for a Hidalgo county water control and improvement district.

Wants Sober Officials.

Rigid enforcement of the prohibition law among public officials was asked today in a bill introduced by Representative D. D. Richardson of Grand Saline, which would require that all persons elected to public office subscribe to an oath that they would not drink intoxicating liquor as a beverage while a public servant.

Exemption by University-owned lands from county taxation was hit in a house joint resolution signed by Representative Penrose Metcalf,

PRESIDENT - ELECT HOOVER WILL LEAVE WASHINGTON ON MONDAY FOR FLORIDA STAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—President-elect Hoover will leave here Monday at 10:30 a. m. for Miami Beach, Florida, where he will be the guest of J. C. Penny on Belle Isle for a little more than a month.

Mr. Hoover expects to arrive in Miami at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday to participate in a monster all-state demonstration arranged in honor of his visit to the state which, with three others in the once solidly Democratic South, gave him a majority last November.

The governor and other high state officials will be on hand to welcome officially the president-elect and it is planned also to have all of the counties in the state represented. After the welcoming in Miami the president-elect and his party will proceed in escort motor cars to Miami Beach and thence across a causeway to the Penny estate.

The trip to Miami is to be made on a special train on the Atlantic Coast Line and the Florida East Coast railway.

The present plans of the president-elect are to return here about two weeks before the dat of his inauguration to continue conferences with Republican leaders which he has been holding for the past ten days and which will be continued through tomorrow and Saturday. He plans to take a rest and to fish.

To Address Brussels Crowd.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—His voice traveling thousands of miles over a telephone wire, President-elect Hoover on Saturday will address a celebration at Brussels to be attended by the king and the queen of Belgium.

Mr. Hoover will speak into a telephone at his desk either at his Mayflower hotel headquarters or his S street home at the Belgian capital his voice will be heard by the crowd through amplifiers.

Information at the Hoover headquarters is that the celebration is in honor of the president-elect who as head of the commission for the relief of Belgium directed the feeding of the population of the little kingdom during its occupation by the Germans.

WOMAN BURNED TO DEATH

PAMPA, Jan. 17. —(AP)— Mrs. Lelah Laveque, 19, died last night at Skellytown of burns received Tuesday when a dress she had cleaned with gasoline caught fire. Her mother, Mrs. James Summers, also was burned, and their two-room house destroyed. Mrs. Summers is expected to recover.

Five Young Men Rob Park Ave. Jewelry Store

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Five young men, working with the precision of apparent long experience, held up the Park Avenue Jewelry shop of G. Mauboussin, today and escaped with gems which the proprietor valued at $200,000. They had taken the stones from the safe and show cases.

of San Angelo and others, specifying that the proposed constitutional amendment be submitted to voters at the next general election.

"Some west Texas counties are in a bad financial situation because much of their area is embraced in University oil lands on which no taxes are levied," he said.

The patriotic movement started yesterday by Representative Preston L. Anderson of San Antonio asking for $1,000,000 to purchase property surrounding the Alamo was followed by a bill which Representative Ernest C. Cox of Corsicana, introduced, requiring trustees of public school districts to purchase an American flag for each school building.

Senate Confirms Moody Appointees

AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The senate today confirmed a number of appointments by the Governor, passed thre deficiency appropriations measures and adopted a bill which woul dallow $1,500,000 given to the available school fund two years ago to be used for emergency appropriations.

The governor's nominations were approved in executive session. Reappointments for three directors of Texas A. and M. College, whose nominations were expected to be contested, were not submitted for confirmation.

Among the selections confirmed were those of W. R. Ely, member of the state highway commission, Mrs. Jane Y McCallum, secretary of state, Robert L. Robertson, adjutant general, W. S. Pope, casualty insurance commissioner, J. W. DeWeese fire insurance commissioner and F. C. Weinert, tax commissioner.

Reappointments of members of the board of regents of state teachers colleges, the board of pardon advisers, and the board of managers of the North Texas Junior Agricultural and Industrial College, the State Board of Veterinary and Medical Examiners, the State Board of Dental Examiners, the State Mining Board, the San Jacinto State Park Commission, the Livestock Sanitary Commission, the State Board of Pharmacy, the Washington State Park Commission and branch pilots of the Galveston and Texas City ports districts also were confirmed.

The expected showdown on the proposed investigation of the land office did not materialize as neither side showed disposition to remove from the table resolutions dealing with that subject.

After messages had been read from Congressman John M. Garner and Marvin Jones urging the legislature to take such a course, the senate asked congress to include in its agricultural tariff schedule fair and adequate tariff rates on all ranch products.

A bill offered by Senator B. F. Berkeley, creating the 109th judicial district and reorganizing the 70th, was passed.

With the rearrangement, the 109th would include Reeves, Ward, Winkler, Crane and Loving, now unorganized and attached to Reeves and the 70th would embrace Midland, Ector, Andrews, Martin and Glasscock.

IN MEMORY OF EDITH SHAW.

On the ninth day of January, 1929, surrounded by her loved ones and friends, the soul of Edith Trull Shaw winged its way heavenward to dwell with Jesus forevermore. Her death occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Trull at Navarro.

She was born Sept. 13, 1903, and was married Nov. 10, 1923, to Mr. Jo Shaw of Ben Wheeler. She was converted and joined the Baptist church at the age of 13 years and lived a consistent Christian life.

Just in the prime of young womanhood, so noble-hearted, unselfish, full of sunshine and helpfulness, that it seemed so hard to give her up. Truly God's ways are past finding out, but one thing we know, that all things worketh for the good to those who trust in Him and though we cannot unravel the mystery here, all things will be revealed to us some day.

Her illness lasted only six short months. She was stricken with that terrible disease, tuberculosis but she bore her suffering patiently. Besides a husband, small daughter and parents, she leave five brothers, Andrew, Hubert Lonnie, Paul and Auburn; four sisters, Lela, Lois, Ruby Joy an Dorothy, and other redatives ar a host of friends of whom we wou point to the Lamb of God for H alone can comfort. She can neve return to us, but thanks be unto God you can be reunited with her on the other shore.

A large concourse of friends had gathered at the Hamilton cemetery to pay their last marks of respect to her whose life among them had been so much appreciated. I trust as each one turned away to face the future they mad a firm resolve to lead a better life. May the tenderest love and care of our heavenly father comfort her bereaved ones.

Farewell, but not forever,
There will be a glorious dawn,
We shall meet to part no more,
On the resurrection morn.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. EDITH SHAW

The death angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Trull on Jan. 10, 1929, and took from them their daughter, Mrs. Edith Shaw. She had been ill for several months. She leaves to mourn her death a little daughter, mother, father and five brothers and four sisters.

Dearest darling thou hast left us,
And our loss we deeply feel,
But it's God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled,
When in heaven in joy to greet thee,
Where no farewell tear is shed.

'Tis hard to break the tender cord,
When love has bound the heart,
'Tis hard, so hard to speak the words,
"We must forever part."

Dearest loved one we must lay thee
In the peaceful grave's embrace,
But thy memory will be cherished,
Till we see thy heavenly face.

A precious one from us has gone
A voice we loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in our home,
Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has recalled
The bloom his love had given,
And though the body slumbers here
The soul is safe in heaven.

We miss thee from our home, dear one,
We miss thee from thy place,
A shadow o'er our life it cast,
We miss the sunshine of thy face.

We miss thy kind and willing hand,
Thy fond and earnest care
Oru home is dark without thee—
We miss thee everywhere.

Earth has lost is look of gladness,
Heaven seems to us more bright,
Since the spirit of our dear one,
Took her happy, homeward flight.

And we long to cross that river,
Long to rest upon that shore,
There to see, and know and love her
With the Saviour evermore.

Kerens Boy Fills Pulpit of Baptist Church That Town

KERENS, Jan. 17.—Ellis Head, student of Baylor University at Waco, filled the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday in the absence of Rev. W. A. Corkern, pastor. Young Head is studying for the ministry, and occasionally fills the pulpit at the church here when on visits to his father, J. Q. Head of this city.

Mr. Head delivered a good sermon, making a good impression on his audience, which is striking evidence that he is making good headway in his subjects at school.

Mr. Smith omitted any reference to his own political future.

Senator Robinson Endorses Smith Idea

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17. —(AP)—Endorsement of former Governor Smith's proposal over the radio last night that all democrats help pay the party's campaign debt was given today by Mr. Smith's vice-presidential running mate, Senator Robinson of Arkansas.

"It is entirely clear to my mind," Senator Robinson declared, "that the correct policy for the democratic party is to reconcile differences within our own ranks, arrange as promptly as possible for the payment of the deficit growing out of the last campaign and if the necessary funds can be secured, maintain continuously offices with a sufficient number of employes to keep the national and state organizations functioning.

"No wholesome end can be accomplished by perpetuating factionalism. Every member of the party interested in its future success should contribute something to the payment of the debt coming over from the 1928 campaign. The first thing to be accomplished is the payment of this debt. The desire for harmony and the spirit of cooperation manifested by Governor Smith is highly commendable and praiseworthy."

Representative Box of Texas, democratic whip of the house, who recently declared in a letter to Governor Roosevelt of New York that the party should eliminate its elements sympathetic to Smith, made this comment:

"Governor Smith's statement indicates to me that he expects to continue as leader of the party and have its organization remain in charge of Mr. Raskob or some other man whom Governor Smith approves."

Negro Gives One Of His Race Good Advice; Arrested

A negro was hailed before the law by another black Tuesday morning on a charge of swindling. The accused negro made a statement which in his opinion cleared him of the accusation and its highly probable that he will repeat his statement before the Navarro county grand jury which convenes Thursday morning.

According to the story told to officers by the negro arrested on the swindling charge, he purchased a pint of liquor from another negro who declared before the sale was completed for $1.50 that he was afraid to sell him liquor as he had been arrested for selling whiskey. The purchaser of the corn opined as how he would give him a sure remedy to keep the white folks from bothering him and arresting him for selling liquor.

The alleged seller of liquor asked him his price for the remedy which the other said was $10. When the $10 was safely in his hands, he replied: "Now, do not sell any more liquor, and they will not bother you any more."

This made the alleged bootlegger hostile and he had him arrested for swindling him of $10. The accused darkie declares that he does not consider that he swindled the other negro and that if he followed the instructions of his remedy, he would have assuredly received relief.

Just what disposition of the case will be will probably be determined by the grand jury this week.

company and oust the company from Texas.

Neff Former Corsicanan

The suit alleges that the defendants conspired to defeat the operations of the company because of their dislike for the vice president of the Golden Rod company, C. D. Neff.

Inability of the Golden Rod company to bring to trial a suit involving gas property at Brownwood and failure of the company to obtain a Texas permit when it tried to reorganize under a Texas charter are further set forth as evidences of the alleged conspiracy.

The suit seeks damages under the following classifications:

For options and leases lost through the alleged conspiracy, $1,000,000.

For loss through inability to do business in Texas, $50,000.

For loss of the confidence of creditors because of slanderous insinuations of suits filed against the Golden Rod company, loss of stockholders and other losses, $250,000.

IN MEMORY OF MRS. OPAL JONES

Mrs. Opal Jones, aged twenty-two years, died at her home at Pursley Sunday evening, Janaury the thirteenth. Funeral services were conducted at twelve-thirty o'clock Monday, and the remains were interred in the Pursley cemetery.

Surviving are her husband, father, Mother and three brothers.

All was done for her that a skillful physician, her family and kind friends could do but to no avail, for God "who doeth all things well" found a better place for her where there is no trouble or sorrok, and where she waits for her loved ones to meet her.

It is very difficult to understand why God should take one so young from her home and loved ones, but we can not question what He in his great wisdom does, but those whom she left may find comfort in thought that afterwhile you may go to meet her in that land where there is no death, no sin, nor sorrow, but where all is peace and happiness. So let us think that there is no death, but what seems so ies only transition from this world of trouble and sorrow to a better home, and that your loved one is happy in her heavenly home.

A friend.
EDITH ANDERSON,
Angus, Texas.

Minister Asks Heart Balm Of Former Actress

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Miss Betty Randolph, former actress and thrice divorced, has been served with a summons in a breach of promise suit filed by the Rev. Bartholomew J. Chudacek, of Philadelphia.

The engagement of Miss Randolph, reputedly wealthy, to the minister, was announced last June. Three dates were set for the marriage, but it failed to materialize.

Mr. Chudacek resigned last June as pastor of a church at Johnstown, N. Y.

YOUTH DIED HERE WEDNESDAY; BURIAL AT ZION'S REST

Funeral services for Lawrence Simpson, aged 18 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Simpson, 917 North Thirteenth street, who died Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, were held from the residence Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock with interment in the Zion's Rest cemetery.

Surviving are his parents and other relatives.

Pallbearers were Clarence Turns, Jack Catts, Robert Franks, Jack Armstrong, Jesse Peebles and Herman Boyd.

Sutherland Undertaking Company had charge.

VERSATILE MAN IS FREED OF MURDER CHARGE BY COURT

ELKHART, Ind., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Harvey L. Smith, private detective, carnival barker and evangelist, was today acquitted in superior court here of the murder of Mrs. Geneveive Stults, a beauty parlor proprietor of Mishawaka, Ind.

Mrs. Stults disappeared in March 1928. Seven months later human bones, identified as those of the missing woman, were found in a pile of lime near here. Smith, when arrested, admitted he had been paid $50 to scare Mrs. Stults out of town, but he insisted he turned the job and the money over to two strangers.

Royalist Head Candidate For Dallas Mayor

DALLAS, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The Royalist League of America was to the fore again today.

The man who recently stood the Dallas municipal government on its ears and attracted international attention was out with an announcement of his candidacy for mayor.

Recently Richard Potts, reputed wealthy young attorney gifted with a sense of humor, proclaimed himself secretary-general of the Royalist League of America.

He demanded use of the town hall for a royalist mass meeting. The city commissioners peremptorilly refused, with lengthy and dignified statements of their position. The grave problem was halted finally by Pott's explanation that he was spoofing and had asked for the city auditorium merely to show that we already had a monarchistic form of government.

The city fathers were chagrinned. Now there is some wonder whether the young "royalist leader" who picked George Bernard Shaw for king and Will Rogers for vice-king is serious or wants to tease some more.

Mrs. Sarah O'Neil Buried at Frost

The body of Mrs. Sarah O'Neil, aged 40 years, who died at the Navarro county hospital Wednesday at noon, was sent to Frost, where interment was made Thursday by the Sutherland Undertaking Company.

Women Oppose Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—For the first time today specific opposition to the 15 cruiser bill pending before congress was voiced before the conference on the cause and cure of war.

"The reason given for increasing our navy at this time by 15 cruisers are inadequate," declared Mrs. Laura Puffer Morgan of the National Council for Prevention of War, in a prepared address. "A navy 'to support our foreign policy' asked for by Senator Hale is a direct denial of the pact whereby we agree to renounce war as a national policy."

Mrs. Lucia Ames Mead of Boston denounced the "deliberate effort to unify and color the thought of each nation to mobilize hatred against the enemy."

REPORT OF CHURCH FINANCES MADE AT BAPTIST MEETING

OFFICERS FOR VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS FOR YEAR ARE ELECTED

The report on the financial condition of the First Baptist church was read Wednesday night to the church in business conference by the treasurer, Hood Cheney. The report showed that the church had given to outside causes, during the past year, to christian education, benevolences, etc., including several individual gifts of the members, a total of $110,068.07. The report also showed that the church had spent for local purposes $22,108.72.

The part of the report read by Mr. Cheney that cause general satisfaction was that part which showed there was a balance on hand on December 30 of $462.31. Someone suggested the Doxology and the crowd stood and sang "Praise God from Whom all Blessings Flow." The grand total raised by the church, last year, including gifts of individual members to worthy denominational causes is $132,639.10.

In the absence of the general superintendent of the Sunday school, C. A. Middleton, who is attending the Southern Baptist Sunday School conference at Tulsa, Okla., Jno. B. Davis read the report on the officers and teachers of the Sunday school, reading the names of all that were recommended for election. Hereunder is given only the general officers elected: Pastor, J. Howard Williams; Educational director, M. Dow Mooney; general superintendent, C. A. Middleton; church secretary, Miss Lillian Charles; Sunday school secretary, R. E. Shoeps; enlargement superintendent, T. R. Womack; class superintendent, Warren Hicks; banker, J. F. Taylor; pianist, Miss Gazzie Suttle; orchestra director, Mrs. J. K. Wood, and superintendent of home department, Mrs. F. M. Cheney.

The following were elected as general officers of the B. Y. P. U. organization: Pastor, J. Howard Williams; director, M. Dow Mooney; associate director, Roy Bridgwater; secretary, Miss Lillian Charles; pianist, Miss Ruth Roberts, and chorister, M. Dow Mooney.

Hood Cheney was unanimously reelected treasurer of the church and a standing vote of thanks was given him for his faithful service in that capacity. J. R. Howell was also reelected as church clerk.

The report of the budget committee was read and each item adopted.

Right of Way For Highway No. 75 Is Secured Freestone

FAIRFIELD, Jan. 17.—(Spl)—H. B. Stewart, who secured the right of way for the route of Highway No. 75, south from Fairfield to the Leon county line, has been appointed to get additional right of way for the pavement of State Highway No. 7, from Teague west to the Limestone county line, where a concrete road will be built.

Condemnation suits will be brought on a few tracts on the Fairfield to Leon county section of Federal Highway No. 75.

Work has been started by F. P. McElwrath' Construction company on the $500,000 paving contract for Federal road No. 75 from Fairfield to Streetman.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to take this means of expressing our appreciation and thanks to our many friends who contributed to our aid and comfort after the recent loss of our home and contents. We shall ever be grateful for each act of kindness and for the humblest deed in our behalf.

May God abundantly bless each and every one is our earnest wish.

Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Conner and family.

Tribute Is Paid To Memory Beloved County Pioneer

MRS. ELIZA ANN WARD

"MY GRANDMOTHER."

This morning I sat in chapel
While voices sweet and clear
Sang a song, "The Old Wooden Rocker,"
That stirred me and brought forth tears.

So true to life was its story,
The words struck my heart with a pang,
For it seemed that it must be your rocker
And you, about whom they sang.

In memory, I went back to childhood,
And saw you sitting in that chair,
While you turned from one side to the other,
As I combed for hours on your hair.

Sometimes I had you a great lady,
With your hair piled high on your head;
Again, I'd play you were a child
And tie your curls with a ribbon of red.
If my playing and pranks e'er worried you,
You let no hint of it be known;
You counted it my childish privilege
To play as if you were not grown.

That playing laid a foundation
For our relations in later years;
To me, you were always a comrade
In whom I could confide without fears.

Of your showing a stern disapproval
Instead, you would smile and say,
(If what I had done did not please you)
"You know, times have changed since my day."

And thus it was with you always,
To us all you were loving and kind;
No harsh words by you were spoken
No ill thoughts or us in your mind.

Today, I stood on the threshold
Of the room that was yours on earth,
And there stood that old wooden rocker
That had stood so long by our hearth.

The old wooden rocker is empty now,
But is seems to hallow the place;
And, in fancy, as I look at it
I see, against the back, your face.

We miss you so, Grandmother, dear
Since God has called you home:
He took from us our guiding star
When He whispered to you "come."

We miss you from your chimney place,
We miss your counsel sweet,
We miss the happiness in your eyes
That would any kindness greet.

You left us at the dawn of day,
'Twas hard to see you go,
And yet we know you're happier now
Than you could be here below.

For with you in that angel band
Are loved ones gone before:
There's grandfather and dear auntie
And others you mourned for.

And now, dear one, as we mourn
Your spirit hovers near,
To ever love and guide us
To try our hearts to cheer.

Now as through this life we onward go
We have a purpose true
To live such pure and devout lives
That again we'll be with you.

—MARY E. REED.

The above poem was written in memory of Grandmother Eliza Ann Ward, whose spirit departed this life in the early morning of Aug. 12, 1928. She had been in poor health all summer and it was probably the untimely death of a devoted and deeply loved granddaughter, Mrs. Nellie Bryant, that brought on the heart attack that hastened her death. She became unconcious that night and never fully regained consciousness during the twenty-one days that she lingered here.

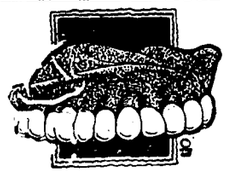

Grandmothr was born Oct. 3, 1839 in Macoupin county, Illinois, and at the time of her death was 88 years, ten months and nine days old. Her parents were John and Jane Scroggins Vinson. She was married July 15, 1855, to John A. Ward, in Illinois. To this union eight children were born, one of whom, Mrs. Mollie Sawyer, preceded her in death. Grandfather Ward passed away in 1909. Surviving her are the following children: Miss Sarah J. Ward, Kerens; Mrs. Minnie Sawyer, Dawson; Mrs. Lorie Lewis, Kerens; J. G. Ward, Dawson; John Ward, Fort Worth; W. R. Ward, Corsicana, and D. Ward, Olustee, Okla. There also survive two nieces, Mrs. Lillie A. Sawyer, Dawson, and Mrs. Jennie Powers, Moark, Ark., besides numerous grandchildren, great-grandchildren, two great-great grandchildren, and other relatives.

Everyone loved Grandmother and because of that words are powerless to pay tribute to her. Just to know her was to love her and she numbered her friends by her acquaintances. She and her family moved to Texas in 1895 and except for the first two years of that time she has lived in Navarro county, having made her home for the last few years with her daughter, Mrs. Lewis, at Kerens.

She was laid to rest by the side of her husband in Board Tree cemetery, near Rodney. A mound of lovely floral offerings paid silent tribute to the love and esteem in which she was held.

ORIENT DIRECTORS PLAN TO IMPROVE ROAD'S FINANCES

LINE WILL BE OPERATED AS SEPARATE UNIT OF SANTA FE SYSTEM

SAN ANGELO, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Directors and stockholders of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway of Texas at a meeting here yesterday said plans to improve the financial condition of the road and to reorganize it along lines to conform with the Santa Fe, new owners of the system.

Plans outlined indicate the Orient will continue to function as a separate unit of the Santa Fe, rather than be incorporated as an integral part of the mother company. W. B. Storey was elected president, M. L. Mertz, vice president and treasurer, and A. G. Wells, F. B. Houghton and A. De Bernardi, vice presidents.

The directors voted to call a meeting of stockholders to vote on a proposition to authorize execution of a general mortgage of the Texas property from Alpine to Red River and to increase capital stock of the company from 10,000 shares of $100 par value to 50,000.

Joe D. Jackson of the Brewster county Chamber of Commerce appeared before the meeting to offer the company a free site at Alpine for needs of a division if the company should establish one there. The question of extending the line 90 miles from Alpine to Presidio was not discussed.

DAIRYMEN DEMAND MORE FOR MILK AS SHORTAGE LOOMS

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The milk supply of America's second largest city was endangered today by striking dairymen of Illinois and Wisconsin, demanding $2.85 a hundredweight for milk in place of the $2.50 the distributors have offered to continue paying.

Some distributors are storing thousands of pounds of condensed milk to meet an emergency, although none was of the opinion the milk shortage would become acute. There were reports that producers in several sections had been stopped en route to distributing plants, and their milk dumped.

Picketing at several receiving stations was continued today by strikers and plans were being made to picket other stations of the Borden and Bowman Dairy companies, which distribute about two-thirds of the city's milk.

Royall Coffee Co. May Establish New Plant at Greenville

J. N. Royall, Jr., has returned from Greenville where he had been in the interest of the Royall Coffee company of this city. A crew of salesmen are now actively engaged in the introduction of "Royall's King of the Cup" in the Greenville territory and if business warrants a coffee roasting plant, similar to the one in Corsicana, will be established in Greenville.

The Royall coffee is being introduced in Greenville under the direction of J. J. Sikes of the local plant who is being assisted by E. M. Taylor and C. M. Fuller representing the Portwood Brokerage company of Greenville, through which company the Royall Coffee is now being distributed.

Mr. Royall was very optimistic over the sales outlook for his office in Greenville and felt assured the business in that city would warrant the establishment of a plant there at an early date.

FORMER PRESIDENT DODGE BROTHERS IS DURANT'S SUCCESSOR

F. J. HAYNES ELEVATED TO POSITION LEFT VACANT BY DURANT RESIGNATION

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Election of F. J. Haynes, former president and chairman of the board of Dodge brothers, as president of Durant Motors, Inc., was announced today.

Haynes succeeds W. C. Durant, who recently announced he was relinquishing management of the corporation. The new president was elected at a meeting of the Durant board of directors at which Ralph A. Vail, former director of engineering and production of Dodge brothers, was named vice-president in charge of engineering and production, and John A. Nichols, Jr., former vice-president in charge of sales of Dodge brothers, was named secretary-treasurer.

The new group will assume full management of the company immediately, bringing back under the fold the principals chosen originally by the late John F. and Horance E. Dodge to direct the formation and developmenet of Dodge brothers.

HIS FAME GROWS WITH YEARS.

"Here you would know and enjoy what posterity will say of Washington. For a thousand leagues have nearly the same effect with a thousand years."

These words of Franklin written from France to the commander of the American continental armies, have a striking significance as applied to the philosopher himself. In this day Franklin, honored as he was by his fellow - countrymen, enjoyed among them no such profound regard as was accorded him in France, or perhaps in England. He was the first American writer whose works were translated into Italian. In England, before the outbreak of the Revolution, he had won high regard. His homely, sagacious counsel, since his death has been spread in nearly every tongue.

No other American has won recognition comparable to that accorded Franklin in so many branches of knowledge and activity, and in few of the departments to which he set himself was he excelled by contemporaries in America. He was an outstanding example of greatness in versatility.

Franklin was a splendid printer, a successful publisher, an able writer, America's first economist, an inventor, the only American scientist of his century, honored for his research in London and Paris. He was the most successful diplomat of his time. He was an energetic citizen, and his services in the founding of the republic were invaluable.

And yet Franklin is remembered chiefly by this generation not so much for what he did as for what he said. Those simple, homely proverbs that gave Poor Richard a circulation of 10,000 copies in the colonies are still the cornerstone of his reputation. He is one of the few men who have given gratuitous advice and profited by it.

Franklin's advice was welcomed because in unusual degree he practiced what he preached. He was affable, unassuming, generous, thrifty, but, withal, courageous and daring for great causes.

It was 223 years ago Thursday that Benjamin Franklin was born. The passing of another two centuries will see many great names added to America's Roll of Honor. But few indeed, will outshine that of Poor Richard. His fame grows with the years.

WOMAN'S POWER.

State legislatures throughout the country this year have 145 women members, a gain of nineteen over last year. A greater increase might have been looked for in view of the new record of participation in the polling set by the women electors in 1928, but the increase, although not large, shows that recognition of the feminine electorate in the choice of legislators is permanent and that the proportion may be looked on to show a steady, if moderate, increase. Pertinent in this connection is the fact that 68 of the number elected had served previously and four were chosen for the fourth time.

The boom started for a cabinet seat for Mrs. Alvin T. Hert, of Kentucky, is based or the extraordinary importance of the feminine vote at the presidential election, as well as the part Mrs. Hert took in the promotion of the Hoover movement. Mrs. Medill McCormick, one of the most competent and experienced of the feminine politicians, does not believe women likely to achieve cabinet recognition for a decade or so, but the backers of Mrs. Hert believe her services justify immediate recognition.

Only ten states will be without women legislators next year. Practically without exception these feminine solons are regulars in the political sense, making no attempt to pose as the especial champions of their sex or of the feminine viewpoint in politics. The true influence of the feminine electorate is to be judged, not so much by the number elected to office, but by the great effect which regard for its supposed preferences is having in the framing of policies and the choice of candidates.

GOVERNOR ROOSEVELT.

As governor of New York, Franklin D. Roosevelt will occupy a prominent place on the political stage for at least two years, both Democrats and Republicans understanding that the character of his administration and the impression it makes may have political consequences of far-reaching importance.

There is more politics to the square inch played in Albany than in any other state capital. It was his masterly handling of the situation there that made Governor Hughes an outstanding figure in the nation, and the repetition of that striking success achieved by Governor Smith was responsible for the dominating position he attained in his party's national councils. Cleveland as well as Theodore Roosevelt found that Albany opened the door of the white house. It is familiarity with these developments that causes speculation as to what the future holds in store for another of New York's most distinguished sons, one who entered the gubernatorial office already well known and well liked by the nation.

Mr. Roosevelt took up the mantle splendidly equipped by experience to carry on the work of Governor Smith. His personality inspires both confidence and friendship. He has that something—magnetism and charm best describe it—which, when coupled with integrity, ability and aptitude for public life, often carries for the fortunate possessor. New York's new executive will be watched by the eyes of the world.

HONOR THE PIONEERS.

The death, at an advanced age, of H. L. Loucks, former national president of the Populist party and of the National Farmers Alliance, adds one more to the army of ghosts dedicated to lost causes, whose chieftain properly would seem to be William Jennings Bryan.

They merit a tribute of respect, for it is harder to fight for the seemingly hopeless than to ride in the van of popular movements. Honest conviction is the hallmark of good citizenship, and so long as men differ on public subjects, so long are they intrested in the government under which they live, and so long is that government assured of health and progress.

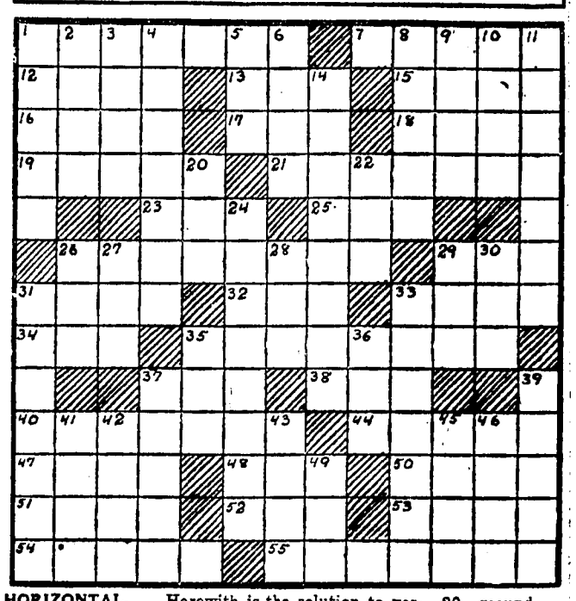

The critics are more important than they seem, after the fight is over. No one has been able to calculate the virtue of stimulus born of their agitation. No one has counted the public questions made familiar because some crusader tilted at the windmills of his prejudices. No one has marked the unregarded seeds sowed in the minds of men, to lie fallow for a while and then sprout into new ideas for a new generation of criticism.

For many of these vanished figures victory is only deferred. Some of them fight for the glamor of the moment; most of them are carrying, in their turn, the standard of a cause which, if never wholly successful, is never wholly defeated. Honor them.

It is estimated that 87 per cent of the statues are erected to men once called cranks.

Neighbors are people who trade you sympathy for the details of your misfortune.

GROUP INSURANCE.

Group insurance, first inaugurated seventeen years ago, now serves more than 4,000,000 persons under policies calling for the payment of nearly $6,000,000,000. The amount prepresents 15 per cent of all of the life insurance now in force in the United States; but more important still, it is written in behalf of workers who in many cases have no other estate to leave to their families. Because of this fact and its effect on the relations between employer and employe, it is regarded as the most important innovation that the insurance industry has ever fostered.

Statistics over a long period of years have shown that wage earners generally have been underinsured. These studies have placed the number without individual insurance on their own lives at 40 per cent, and that of the 60 per cent who have protected their families the amount of insurance averages $500, or little more than enough to pay funeral expenses. Another survey disclosed that 33 per cent of these insured workers left no other estate.

Wage earners are underinsured, not because they do not believe in life insurance, but because the rates are too high. With them life insurance is a luxury they cannot afford. Group insurance, through the economies effected by it, has brought life insurance within the reach of the unskilled laborer and has encouraged employers to insure their employes. Group insurance is America's substitute for the British dole system and the German social insurance.

DISTRICT JUDGE IS SPEAKER AT HOWARD FUNERAL TUESDAY

District Judge Hawkins Scarborough and Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church, spoke at the funer services for Mike Howard, aged 69 years, former well-known school teacher and public office-holder, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the First Baptist church. Mr. Howard died in Waco, Sunday night, following a short illness with influenza. He went out of the district clerk's office Jan. 1, and had moved to Waco to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. E. W. Bridges. Judge Scarborough, a life-long friend of "Uncle Mike" spoke of the life of the deceased.

During the funeral hour, district court was adjourned and the district clerk's office closed out of respect to the memory of the deceased.

Surviving are one son, Dr. Rex Z. Howard, of Fort Worth, and one daughter, Mrs. E. W. Bridges of Waco.

New Life Insurance Institution Being Organized Here

The Sun is authorized to announce the organization of a new life insurance society known as The National Insurance Union of America, Home Office, Corsicana, Texas. This new concern has adopted as its plan of operation what it terms as the Current-Cost adequate step-rate pure protection plan. It is very different in every respect from the other local insurance organizations heretofore operated in this section as they operate on the N. F. C. table of adequate rates. Under this plan they can furnish life insurance on GUARANTEED RATES with STIPULATED GUARANTEED POLICIES to the insuring public of Navarro county and the rest of the entire state of Texas, and any other state in the United States they desire to enter. A great deal of the first organization is being done by the Supreme President of the society, Mr. Tom H. Westbrook, who is a very able insurance man, having been in the insurance business for the past nine years. The officers of this new society are as follows: Tom H. Westbrook, Supreme President; Harry F. Chesnut, Vice-President, R. C. Curtis, Medical Director and L. B. Burris, Director.

Work has already been going on as they have between 150 and 200 of the charter members secured to date and receiving many applications every day. Corsicana should feel proud to have such a national institution in its midst and should not hold back in supporting the society as it is founded on a plan that will allow it to grow and prosper and carry the name of Corsicana into many parts of the United States.—(Adv)

Terracing School Be Held Thursday At Hubbard City

AVIATION'S RAPID PROGRESS IS BEING BROUGHT CLOSE HOME

MISSISSIPPI COLLEGE FOR GIRLS HAS PLANE FOR PASSENGER SERVICE

In this age of rapid aviation development, it is apparent that the use of the airplane is coming closer home to the citizens of Corsicana.

In discussing this feature of aviation at the Chamber of Commerce Monday, S. J. Thigpen, one of the owners of the Navarro Hotel, mentioned a letter he had received from his daughter, Miss Margaret Thigpen, who is a student at Gulf Park College, a junior college for girls at Gulfport, Mississippi. Miss Thigpen explained that a twelve passenger tri-motored plane was now available to students of her school desiring airplane transportation. She said that the president of the school was an aviation enthusiast who believed that the new planes, piloted by experienced men, were safer than the automobile and suggested that airplanes make it possible for the girls who lived at a distance to visit their homes for the brief vacation periods when other means of transportation would make trips home impractical.

Prominent hotel men of the country, it is apparent from news articles of the past few days, are watching with great interest the development of aviation. As pointed out by the president of the National Association of Hotel Owners, the airplane will make possible the building of hotels at recreational centers at long distances from the big cities. Such places would be accessible for week end visits by business executives through the use of the airplane which are now out of the question by land travel. At the hotel president put it, "It will not be long until many hotels will get many of their guests, 'out of the clear sky.'"

Postmaster P. Mayer stated a few days ago that the use of air mail for Corsicana correspondence is considerably heavier than the average person would imagine.

A two-day aviation school at Fort Worth, which began Monday, for newspaper men and Chamber of Commerce secretaries is for the purpose of keeping representatives of these two professions in touch with recent developments.

You know—Martha Lee Toiletries are the choice of the modern woman who must have beautiful unblemished skin. Why not try them? Sold and recommended by Inabnit Drug Co.

LIVESTOCK AND RANGES REPORTED IN GOOD CONDITION

AUSTIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Although rain and snow in Northwest Texas worked hardships on stock cattle, making them lose weight, livestock and ranges were generally in very good condition on Jan. 1, the United States department of agriculture report for December showed today.

Green grass and weeds left when freezing weather began in December contributed largely to the contir ed good condition of cattle, while stock water and soil moisture were ample and with more rain in February the spring prospects should continue to be good.

Sheep and goats are in the best condition in years, the report said, crediting this condition to a late winter and good ranges. Some losses resulted from bitter weed.

Cattle shipments for 1928 showed a slight decrease under 1927, and a slight increase over the average for a 5-year period. Shipments from 1923 to 1927 averaged 534,172 during the first six months; in 1927 shipments totaled 539,683; in 1928, 536,713.

—the public now demands

375,000

Jars of Vicks daily

Compared with 1918, this epidemic, so far, is mild; and yet, in spite of vastly increased capacity, the Vicks Laboratories are once more operating night and day to meet the emergency demand for more and more Vicks VapoRub. Over 375,000 jars are now being produced daily.

approved method of using Vicks for FLU

1. AS A PREVENTIVE

Several times a day, insert Vicks up the nostrils. Also melt a little night and morning in a bowl of boiling water and inhale the steaming medicated vapors. This helps to ward off germ-infection.

2. IF A COLD STARTS

If possible, go home and go to bed. Take a laxative and a hot lemonade. Apply hot, wet towels over throat and chest until the skin is throughly reddened. Then rub vigorously with Vicks. Spread on thickly and cover with warm flannel. Leave the bed-covering loose, so that the vapors, released by the body-warmth, may be freely inhaled. At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice.

Repeat this treatment every four hours, eat lightly, and stay in bed until the cold is broken. Complete rest helps the body throw off the cold more quickly.

3. AFTER A FLU ATTACK

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is after influenza. Then, more than ever, colds, attacking the weakened system, may lead to bronchitis, sinus-trouble or pneumonia. This is especially true of children or old folks.

Heed even the slightest cold as a danger signal. Vicks is especially valuable here, because it is applied externally, and so can be used freely, as often as needed, without upsetting delicate digestions, as too much "dosing" is so apt to do.

ANCIENT LANDS BEAR WITNESS TO CENTRAL SYMBOL OF FAITH

Romantic Persistence of Christianity's Emblem Amidst Forgotten Civilizations—Common Consciousness of Christians That Cross Expresses the Heart of Religion.

By WILLLIAM T. ELLIS

Once, during the war, while traveling through an uninhabited region of the Caucasus mountains, I saw a small oblong opening cut into the rocky face of a high cliff. These man-made caves in desert places hold a peculiar allure for me, and whenever possible I have explored them. This particular chamber, I found, upon climbing up to it had been tollsomely chiseled out of the solid granite. It measured perhaps six feet each way, and the only deviation from its squareness was that a small shelf of rock had been left on one side, for the hermit's couch. I could not doubt that this shelter had been cut, long centuries ago, by a Christian recluse, because, deeply incised in the center of the rear wall was a cross.

That symbol confronts the traveler everywhere in the East, even in the regions where Christianity was long ago driven out. The cross is found on forgotten graves. Ruined churches show it. From the ground beside the half-demolished "Double Church" of old Ephesus, in which the great church councils were held, I brought home, nearly twenty years ago, a block of marble containing a cross; and it is now the baptismal font of the First Presbyterian church in Atlanta. In Japan the Catholics keep a feast called "the Discovery of the Christians," for, after generations in which the cross was forbidden on pain of death, it was found, when religious liberty came, that many families had been secretely treasuring the cross and the forbidden faith. Only the other day, in the Syrian quarter of New York City, I saw an oriental with a cross tatooed on his hand, as one so often sees it in the East—an ineradicable profession of faith, in the presence of an overwhelming Islam.

So the tale might run endlessly. The cross is the accepted symbol of Christianity, even as the Apostle Paul wrote. Both the mind and the heart of mankind have perceived throughout the ages that the cross signifies the central truth of the religion of Jesus. And the cross is distinctive of Christianity; no other religion has it. It is this sign of salvation that best gathers up the truth embodied in the word and in the life and in the death of the Son of God. Take away the cross from Christianity, and you have left a mere philosophy—nothing that it is adequate for the surcease of the sin-conscious spirit of mortal. Christianity is Christianity because it presents a crucified Saviour. The cross is truly "the tree of life."

Shadows of the Cross.

Sentiment loves the legend, represented by a familiar painting, of the boy Jesus, stretching Himself in Joseph's carpenter shop in Nazareth, while his mother looks affrighted at the shadow of the cross which is thus thrown behind him. The shadow of the cross is older than that. It was majestically portrayed by the Prophet Isaiah, who foresaw a suffering Servant: "Surely He hath borne our griefs, and carried our sorrows; yet we did esteem Him stricken, smitten of God, and afflicted. But He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities; the chastisement of our peace was upon Him; and with His stripes we are healed."

That shadow earlier fell athwart the sands of Sinai when Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness. It followed the angelic brightness of Christmas; for the message to Mary was, "Thou shalt call His name Jesus, for He shall save His people from their sins." Although through His public ministry, from the day when John the Baptist pointed to Him as "the Lamb of God, that taketh away the sin of the world," Jesus walked under the shadow of the cross. He, the Good Shepherd, knew Himself to be, insublime paradox, the Lamb slain from before the foundation of the world.

In pregnant phrases, great Paul gathered up this central truth of all revelation, in his letter to the Christians at Rome:

"For when we were yet without strength, in due time Christ died for the ungodly. For scarcely for a righteous man will one die; yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die. But God commendeth His love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

A Truth for the Times.

These are not days of deep thought. The superficial and the material so crowd men's minds that they do not dig down to the fundamentals of spiritual logic and experience. Amazingly thin is the religious teaching with which multitudes seem satisfied. Among Christians who are eager to be modern and popular, there is a turning from the rugged cross to vague theories of social amelioration; unmindful of the truth, writ large upon the face of the ages, that mankind needs salvation first and that social betterment follows.

No motive less powerful than the cross can transform human nature into unselfishness. In vain does society strive to lift itself by its own bootstraps. But the magnetism of the cross is in the words of Jesus: "I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me." The world needs a Saviour more than it needs a teacher or a leader or an organizer.

Because of its very vastness, the Atonement—the at-one-ment of God and man—is a mystery. One has wisely written, "To understand fully the Atonement were to understand these three things and their ultimate relation to each other—the greatest thing in God, which is His love; the strongest thing in the universe, which is law; and the darkest thing in man, which is sin." Above the altar in St. Paul's Cathredral, London, stands the figure of the crucified Savior, inscribed, "Sic Deus dilexit mundum"—"This is how God loved the world." It has been said, in contemplation of the cross, "There is no sacrifice that God has not made for man."

Where the eye of knowledge is dazzled and blinded, though, the eye of faith may see clearly. A poet has phrased the heart's instinctive response to the truth of the cross—

"Under an Eastern sky,
Amidst a rabble's cry,
A Man went forth to die
For me.

"Thorn-crowned His blessed head,
Blood-stained His every tread:
Cross-laden, on He sped
For me.

"Pierced glow His hands and feet:
Three hours o'er Him beat
Fierce rays of noontide heat
For me.

"Thus wert Thou made all mine;
Lord, make me wholly Thine;
Grant grace and strength divine
To me."

When Hearts Are Broken.

If a traveler recounts the many sided significance of the cross in the ancient East, he also recalls present expressions of the passion ate dvotion of living Christians to the crucified Christ. How the scroll of memory unrolls—soldiers partaking of the Lord's Supper at dawn, as they knelt in the mud; rapt missionaries in the Anglican church in far Isphahan, Persia; boys in a famous American private school; Russian peasant women in a famous American private school; Russian peasant women in the gloomy cathedral at Kherson; ecstatic pilgrims in the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, Jerusalem; Christians of many names receiving the sacrament from the hands of a saintly bishop at a memorable service in Little Rock—the tale of such rich experiences is too long to tell.

For the broken heart of Christ breaks man's proud heart. Haughty wills are humbled by the spectacle of a Saviour slain. Rousseau is reported to have said, "If the death of Socrates was the death of a man, then the death of Jesus was the death of a God." In familiar lines Richard Watson Gilder has given us the soliloquy of a pagan centurian, witnessing the Crucifixion—

"If Jesus Christ is a man—
And only a man—I say
That of all mankind I cleave to Him,
And to Him will I cleave alway.

"If Jesus Christ is a God—
And the only God—I swear
I will follow Him through heaven and hell,
The earth, the sea and the air"

NEW YORK PAPER SAYS ROCKEFELLER WINS OVER STEWART

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The Herald Tribune says today that according to one of New York's outstanding petroleum authorities John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has won his fight to oust Col. Robert W. Stewart from the chairmanship of the Standard Oil company of Indiana.

It is quite likely, the paper says, that Mr. Rockefeller would announce he had more than 51 percent of the voting proxies some time before the meeting of the stockholders, March 7.

While Mr. Rockefeller will have the large blocks of stocks held by such interests as the Harkness, Flagler and Rogers estates and of other Standard Oil companies in which he is the dominant figure, Col. Stewart is expected to rally the stock held by employes and the 38,000 small stockholders of the company.

Associated Press Dispatch Contained Inaccurate Reference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—A dispatch by the Associated Press describing the federal trade commission's hearings on public utilities financing last Sept. 21 contained an inaccurate reference to Guy P. Newburn of Nashville, Tenn. The dispatch said that M. B. Darnall of Florence, Ala., had named Newburn as having first suggested that the Alabama Power Company might be interested in paying to have Darnall's newspape editorials circulated. This statement was erroneous, and the Associated Press is glad to make this correction.

FOUR RAILROADS READY FOR RATE EQUALIZATION PLAN

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 17.—Representatives of four railroads in the Southwest testified today at an inerstate commerce hearing they had no objection to an equalization of freight rates sought by Southeastern carriers on freight moving into the Southwest.

The railroads represented were the Frisco, Louisiana & Arkansas, L. R. and N., and Txas & Pacific

Southeastern carriers are seeking a readjustment of rates on the gground that they are discriminated against on freight charges into the Southwest.

Economy Plan Fails, Legislator Resigns

BATON ROUGE, La., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Resignation of Representative J. A. McClanahan of Caldwell Parish, caused by the special session of the state legislature refusing to favorably consider his efforts to cut expenses of legislature employes, has been rejected by Governor Long. In a letter to Mr. McClanahan yesterday, Governor Long stated he believed acceptance of the resignation "would be contrary to the wishes of the people of your section."

AIR MAIL PILOT VISITS CORSICANA HAS GOOD RECORD

One year ago today, Charles Pedley, air mail pilot, severed his connections with the Corsicana Daily Sun and went with the Texas Air Transport organization.

Since that time Pedley has had approximately 1100 hours in the air flying the mail.

The remarkable part of this accomplishment is the fact that Pedley has not had an accident of any nature.

However, those who know Pedley best do not consider the feat so remarkable for he is one of the most efficient pilots in the United States today. At present he holds the flight record both north and south for the lap between Fort Worth and Laredo.

Pedley ranks high in the opinion of the officials of the Texas Air Transport company and is deservedly popular among his fellow pilots, and with the students in the training school conducted in connection with the school.

The former Corsicana pilot visited his old home Thursday, and expressed keen interest in the fact the work will be started on the Corsicana airport within a short time. Harold J. Nichols, lessee of the field, is one of Pedley's former students.

Pedley returned to his headquarters in Fort Worth Thursday afternoon, making the trip by automobile.

Argument Resumed In Texas Tax Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Argument was to be resumed before the supreme court today in the protest of the Grayburg Oil company of San Antonio against the one cent per gallon tax levied by the State of Texas on gasoline delivered to the federal government. Court adjourned yesterday shortly after Victor Keller had opened arguments for the company.

Boy Dies From Injuries by Train

PAMPA, Jan. 17. —(AP)— Shortly after telling his small sister she could push him about in a wheel chair, A. B. Murray, Jr., 8, died here today of injuries suffered when a freight train severed both his legs last night.

The boy's foot caught in a switch as he was playing. His right arm also was severed, and blood transfusions failed to save his life. The father works at Big Springs.

COOLIDGE SIGNED TREATY OUTLAWING WAR THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—President Coolidge today signed the document of ratification of the Kellogg treaty to renounce war.

Members of the senate, which ratified the pact on Tuesday, and cabinet officers looked on as Mr. Coolidge affixed his signature. The ceremony took place in the east room of the White House.

Notification that the ratification document has been signed will be sent to the fourteen other original signatory powers. One other step will remain, the signing of exchange copies of the treaty for deposit in the archives of each signatory nation.

THREE MEN KILLED.

Navarro Defeated State Home Lads on Y Court Wednesday

Navarro won a 27-10 victory over the State Home Lads in a fast and hard fought basketball game played on the Y court Wednesday night. The game was a fast affair, full of action from the opening whistle to the final blast from the timekeeper's whistle.

Norton, Navarro pivot man, was high point man with 13 points marked opposite his name on the score book.

Navarro jumped into the lead early in the first quarter and held a long lead over the Lads during the remainder of the contest.

NICARAGUAN REBEL LEADER ASKS STATE BE GIVEN TO HIM

SAYS WITHDRAWAL AMERICAN MARINES PRICE FOR LAYING DOWN HIS ARMS

MANAGUA, Nic., Jan. 16. (AP)—General Augustino Sandino, rebel leader, has proposed that the province of Nueva Segovia be separated from Nicaragua and placed under his control.

President Jose Maria Moncada's reply to the proposal was to call it treason and to order the enlistment of volunteers to combat Sandino and his followers, whom he termed outlaws. He added that the proposal was "lunacy."

President Moncada and General Sandino were followers of Dr. Juan B. Sacasa, recently appointed Nicaraguan minister to Washington, when he headed a liberal government at Puerto Cabezas. Moncada was commander of the liberal armies and agreed to make peace with the conservative Diaz government, one of the terms being American supervision of a presidential election, which Moncada won.

The proposal of General Sandino was sent to President Moncada through relatives and included a suggestion for a peace conference between the two at which the matter would be discussed.

"I have taken steps to stop this shameful farce of patriotism by ordering the enlistment of volunteers to combat the outlaws," President Moncada said. "Peace reigns over the country except in a small area to the north near the border of Honduras where small bands of outlaws are destroying crops."

Marines Must Go.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Withdrawal of American marines from Nicaragua is the condition upon which General Augustino Sandino, Nicaraguan rebel leader, is willing to lay down his arms. Letters written by General Sandino stating this and that he will not deal with the United States were made public by the newspaper El Sol, whose editors announced the authenticity of the documents was beyond question.

One letter is an answer to Rear Admiral David Sellers, U. S. N., commanding the special service squadron in Central American waters.

TEXAS SOLONS GET DOWN TO BUSINESS FOLLOWING BANQUET

SENATE EXPECTED TO TAKE DEFINITE STAND ON LAND OFFICE PROBE

AUSTIN, Jan. 17.—(AP)—After a night in which legislative dignity was forgotten at a banquet tendered by Galveston county law-makers, the senate and house was ready today for further activity before recessing Friday for a junketing trip to Houston.

In the senate a definite showdown was expected in the proposed land office investigation and in the house committees were to tackle many bills heaped into the hopper during the past eight days. The latter group was expected to be informed that despite its decision yesterday not to consider "money" bills at the regular session, the senate had passed its first appropriations measure, a judiciary bill, which seems destined to be tabled in the house.

After hanging fire since the Forty-first legislature went into session, a quiz of Land Commissioner J. T. Robison's office was to be either revived today in the senate or cast into the scrap heap. Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington promised he would take the lead in a fight to take a joint resolution providing for the inquiry from the table. By a unanimous vote Tuesday a house public lands and buildings committee voted that the proposed probe be reported unfavorably.

To Hear Educators.

The house appropriations committee was to hear further reports from presidents of state-controlled institutions seeking emergency funds for operation until regular appropriations become available. Six educators told the appropriations committee yesterday that summer schools in their institutions were hampered seriously by lack of funds.

Senator Tomas G. Pollard of Tyler, chairman of the senate finance committee, started work yesterday on the framing of a bill which would withdraw $1,500,000 appropriated by the Fortieth legislature to insure $15 per capita apportionment to the available school fund, which proved to be not needed in furnishing the per capita allotment.

The move was made after the senate committee found consideration of emergency appropriations impossible by the discovery that only approximately $30,000 was available for the purpose.

CORSICANA LIONS CLUB TO SPONSOR MEMORIAL TABLET HONORING COUNTY WAR DEAD

W. H. Hastings making his annual report before the Corsicana Lions Club Tuesday as chairman of the major activities committee of the club, offered a suggestion that met with instant approval.

A bronze memorial tablet honoring the Navarro county boys making the supreme sacrifice during the World war to be sponsored by the Lions Club and open to every resident of Navarro county, was the suggestion offered by Mr. Hastings.

The memorial as planned will be a bronze tablet 24x36 inches imbedded in a four ton Texas granite boulder. This boulder will be five feet in height, two feet thick and three and a half feet across the face.

On the bronze tablet, approximately decorated, will be engraved the names of the thirty three Navarro county boys who lost their lives during the United States participation in the war.

In the left hand corner will be the date 1914 and in the right hand corner 1918. Between the two dates appears the spread eagle over crossed flags.

As a heading for the names appears the following inscription:

"In memory of the men of Navarro county Texas who los their lives in the World War."

Then follows the list of names in two columns with Charles B. Johnson at the top of one column and Louis Wiggins heading the other column. The local post of the American Legion is named in honor of these two men.

The memorial in all probability will be located in the City Park and dedication services are now being planned for May 30.

Mr. Hastings has gone into the matter very thoroughly and when he presented the project to the club he already had prepared a blue print and drawings of the proposed memorial bringing out all details.

It is estimated by Mr. Hastings the entire cost will not exceed $700.

The necessary funds will be raised by popular subscription.

It is open to every man, woman and child in Navarro county and the officials of the Lions Club have requested that all subscriptions be forwarded to the Corsicana Daily Sun office at Corsicana where the money will be turned over to the proper authorities.

There is to be no special drive to secure this money. It is a voluntary subscription and the sponsors feel the people of the city and county will be anxious to take part in providing this memorial for the boys who died to make the world safe for democracy that our American homes should never feel the iron rule of a power and war crazed Kaiser.

All those desiring to contribute are urged to send in their donations without delay.

CONSIDERATION IN EXTRA SESSION IS VOTED DECISIVELY

SENATE MEANTIME PASSES FIRST OF APPROPRIATION BILLS UNANIMOUSLY

AUSTIN, Jan. 16. (AP)—By a vote of 122 to 10, the house today approved recommendations of its appropriation committee that appropriations bills be considered at an extra session. The move came after a heated debate in which a dozen lawmakers were on their feet at the same time clamoring for recognition.

The senate yesterday went on record as favoring disposal of "money" bills at the regular session.

The verbal tilt was precipitated by the report of John F. Wallace of Teague, appropriations committee chairman.

Cries of "Fine" greeting Representative Henry Webb of Odessa when he moved that the house should sustain the committee chairman's report.

Representative B. E. Quinn was the first to assert himself against Wallace's recommendations.

Representative R. L. Kincaid, of Crowell said he understood the appropriations committee had no other duties to perform and that if they failed to turn their attention toward monetary aid at the regular session "we might as well discharge them."

Says 39th Bungled.

Speaking in behalf of the extra session, Representative Woodruff of Decatur anwswered Kincaid with charges that "the 39th legislature, which approved appropriations at its outset, bungled more measures than any other in the history of Texas."

Woodruff told the house provision for a sixty day regular session was made when situations were less complicated than now, and declared the time was present when a change should be made in the law, giving the legislature longer time for consideration of measures.

"I claim it would be folly to attempt to pass appropriations at this session and go home," he said.

Representative George Kemble of Fort Worth took up the fight for a special session with a plea for time to "investigate and consider appropriations which have been asked."

"If we are going to let the governor run affairs singlehanded, lets abolish the legislature," he shouted.

Representative G. J. Cox of Paris interrupted him with the question "Don't you think the senate has two candidates for governor and another for lieutenant governor, and they're trying to make a record by speedy legislation?"

"I can only say you are an astute politician," Kemble replied.

Senate Passes First Appropriation Bill

AUSTIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The senate today unanimously passed the first of the regular appropriations measures, that provided approximately $5,150,000 for the support of the judiciary the next biennium.

The bill was passed without change by a vote of 27 to 0 and was ready to be sent over to the house. The appropriations committee of the house was voted not to consider the appropriations measures during the regular session.

A resolution of sympathy in the death today of Frank Patton, father of Senator Nat Patton, of Crockett, was adopted unanimously and the senate voted to adjourn in respect to him.

Senator McFarlane of Graham introduced a bill prohibiting a county commissioners court from issuing warrants or refunding bonds to take up warrants without a vote of the people.

Members of the citizens party of Hidalgo county had claimed that authority to issue refunding bonds to retire several million dollars worth of warrants would be sought of the 41st legislature so that the commissioners court might issue more warrants.

Senator Oliver C. Cunningham of Abilene proposed an election on a constitutional amendment to stabilize the price of cotton.

The amendment would authorize the legislature to issue bonds not to exceed $50,000,000 for a revolving fund with which to buy, store and sell cotton and would empower the legislature to levy and collect an equalization fee on cotton not exceeding $1 a bale to pay the interest on such bonds.

Senator Cunningham also introduced a bill which would permit individuals to construct dams to impound water for stock, domestic or irrigation purposes without having to obtain a permit from the water board.

The investigation of the land office specter raised its head in the senate today when Senator Benjamin F. Berkley of Abilene moved to remove from the table his substitute motion for a joint session of the senate and house committees on public lands to study land office affairs.

Senator Berkeley's motion was held out of order.

Recess Appointments Confrimed.

AUSTIN, Jan. 16.—(AP)—The senate in a brief executive session today confirmed the 103 recess appointments of Governor Dan Moody.

Among the selections confirmed was that of C. S. Clark, reappointed to the water board, to whose immediate appointment some opposition had been expected.

Changes Made in Assignment Several School Teachers

A number of changes in the assignment of teachers have been made in the Corsicana public schools recently to fill vacancies caused by marriage and resignations. Additional changes announced Thursday were the assignment of Miss Sarah Holman to the high school to fill the place of Mrs. Percy Henry, formerly Miss Hazel Grantham; Miss Pauline Lewis of Waco will be assigned as a teacher of history in the high school, succeeding Miss Myrtle Roberts, who resigned to accept a similar position in the Woodrow Wilson high school of Dallas.

Miss Lucille Smith has been assigned to the David Crockett school filling the vacancy caused by the transfer of Miss Corinne Lotspeich to the Sam Houston school. Miss Smith has been teaching at Montfort.

CITIZENS URGED CO-OPERATE WITH POLICE DEPARTMENT

A plea for the hearty co-operation of the citizens of Corsicana with the police department was made by Desk Sergeant Roy Vinson at the regular meeting of the Civitan club at the Navarro Hotel at noon Thursday. Ross Harris, new superintendent of the I. O. O. F. Home, was a guest of the club.

Miss Vivian Evetts, pupil of Mrs. Sue Taylor Cook, presented two readings that met an enthuiastic response from the club. Her first number was an episode from the adventures of "Little Benny," Lee Pape's popular character, and her second was a "colorful" description of a negro wedding.

Presenting a number of photographs for study, Roy Vinson, desk sergeant of the city police department, and finger print expert, explained the working of the system of identification now used by the majority of the police officials in the United States. He narrated the various steps in the process and explained how fingerprints are photographed from objects touched by a criminal, and also exhibited some police records with full identification features.

He closed his talk with an appeal to the citizens to aid and co-operate with the police by reporting burglaries and other law violations promptly and by practicing close observation in order that as many details as possible might be supplied.

President Tom Orr then presented Ross Harris, formerly of Greenville, and now superintendent of the Odd Fellows Home, who expressed his appreciation for the invitation to meet with the club, and invited the club members to visit the home and see the work that is being done.

The Civitan creed was read to two new members, J. R. O'Neal and Percy Henry, by Capt. Festus A. Pierce, leader of the team securing the new membrs.

At the close of the meeting it was announced that Festus Pierce's team had increased their lead to 27 points. The total standing to date is Crook 100 points, Pierce 127.

LOS ANGELES JUDGE IS DISMISSED FROM BAR ASSOCIATION

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Dismissal from membership in the American Bar Association of Carlos S. Hardy, one of the two judges of the criminal court of Los Angeles county, California, brought to an unexpected conclusion the meeting of the association's executive committee here yesterday.

Judge Hardy's membership was forfeited by the executive committee because of alleged violation of canons of the association which tions which might interfere with the discharge of legal duties and the alleged acceptance of presents or favors from litigants or from those whose interests were likely to be submitted for judgment.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Removal of the name of Superior Judge Carlos H. Hardy from membership in the American Bar Association follows upon a legal controversy in California over his acceptance of a $2,500 check from Aimee Semple McPherson, the evangelist, for legal advice.

During a grand jury investigation of alleged official corruption in Los Angeles recently, Judge Hardy admitted accepting the check but said it was for services volunteered prior to the time that Mrs. McPherson was charged with conspiracy to defeat justice by telling a false story under oath in 1926 about her reported kidnapping.

Judge Hardy refused to testify before an investigating committee of the California Bar Association which sought to determine the propriety of his taking money.

MOODY PROMISES FAITHFUL DISCHARGE GOVERNOR'S DUTIES

WILL EMBRACE EVERY OPPORTUNITY TO ADVANCE HAPPINESS OF PEOPLE

AUSTIN, Jan. 15.—(AP)—In his inaugural address today Governor Dan Moody said:

"By the consent of the generous and proud citizenship of Texas, I again assume the obligations of the governorship of this great state, and I shall faithfully endeavor to discharge its duties. The occasion is appropriate for an acknowledgment of my appreciation of the confidence which the people of Texas have reposed in me by continuing me in this honorable and dignified office. In return for their confidence and trust it is my desire and purpose to give unselfish service to the public interest.

"I have no ambitions, so far as the office is concerned, except to honorably, courageously and efficiently meet the responsibilities, and respond to its duties. I want to embrace every opportunity which circumstances afford for upholding and promoting the happiness and material welfare of the people into whose service I enter for another term. I hope that you who constitute the legislative department of this government and I may join hands in a united effort so to serve the interests of our citizenship.

People Expect Much.

The people of Texas expect much of this administration. They are conscious of new necessities created by the ever-changing conditions of this fast developing age. Our time is 1929. We have been chosen as their officers and entrusted with power to act for them in the present matters which concern their welfare. Therefore it is our duty to attune our thinking and our doing to their existing needs. Out attitude toward public problems should be reactionary, but progressive and in keeping with the times of which our lives form a part.

"From the legislativeh alls of this state and the executive office we should send forth measures of law that are written by hands and minds which are devoted to mankind's material and spiritual betterment and advancement. The opportunity is great and this beautiful country which thought and toil have transformed from wooden wilderness and arid plains into the home of five million happy people demands the best of which we we are capable. The people appreciate the difficulties and intricacies of the issues before us, and they will patiently but interestedly wait for our actions. Unselfish devotion upon our part to their service will earn their approval.

"Throughout my life I have been the beneficiary of this state and her citizens. The people of Texas haveplaced my in honorable positions of trust and power, and in your presence I acknowledge my indebtedness to them, and I again dedciate my thought and whatever talents I may have to the furtherance of their welfare and happiness."

CHINESE STEAMER FOUNDERS AFTER GOING ON ROCKS

HONGKONG, Jan. 16.—(AP)—More than 300 lives apparently were lost today in the sinking of the Chinese steamer Hsinwah.

The vessel sank a few minutes after striking a rock off Waglan.

Only 23 survivors were known to have been picked up. One survivor said that the vessel carried 300 Chinese passengers and most of the crew went down with her.

The survivor said the vessel, owned by the Chinese Merchants' Navigation Company, left Swatow yesterday and encountered heavy seas and a strong wind. At 3:40 a. m. today the ship struck a rock and filled rapidly with water.

It was believed only one life boat was launched. In this were a boatswain, fifteen members of the crew and four passengers. The lifeboat tossed about on the heavy seas for about an hour and was sighted by a junk just as the Hsinwah heeled over and sank. The junk brought the twenty survivors to Hongkong.

Another junk picked up Chief Officer Jacobsen and two Chinese. All wore lifebelts but were so numbed by cold that they were unable to grasp ropes thrown to them. The fishermen jumped into the water and lifted them aboard the junk.

Search for other survivors was being continued this afternoon.

The Hsinwah was of 1940 tons. The ship was commanded by Captain Jensen. The chief and second engineers were British and the other officers were either Russian or Chinese.

Armored Cars to Chase Bootleggers Offered County

Acting upon the recommendations made by the past grand jury in its report that Navarro county officers should be furnished high-powered and speedy automobiles in which to chase bootleggers across Navarro county, a salesman for such a concern approached Clay Nash, county judge, during the past several days with reference to selling Navarro county armored and high-powered automobiles to chase the bootleggers who are said to be equipped with high-powered automobiles and in that way elude the officers.

When questioned as to the price of the armored cars, the salesman elecited the information that they were only $10,000 each.

Judge Nash advised him that the commissioners' court had no intention of purchasing high priced automobiles for the sheriff and dropped the belief that there were plenty of bootleggers standing around not running in high powered autos to keep the sheriff busy. "There are plenty of bootleggers standing and sitting around to keep the sheriff busy getting them without getting armored autos to chase the flyng brds' for a while at least.

OKLAHOMA PROBERS DIVIDED TO CHASE ELUSIVE CHARGES

VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS OF STATE ADMINISTRATION COMING UNDER SCRUTINY

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Declaration that issuance by Gov. Henry S. Johnston of a $7,800 deficiency certificate to provide for the employment of a special attorney for the state banking department was an impeachable offense, was made in the house of representatives investigating committee hearing today by H. Tom Kight, chairman of the house appropriations committee.

Kight made the statement from the investigating committee's witness stand. He is an active political enemy of Governor Johnston and was one of four leaders of the attempted impeachment session of 1927.

The committee's hearing this morning had centered about the governor's activities with the banking department.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Stalking through a maze of inquisitorial bypaths in its hunt for evidence of irregularity in the administration of Governor Henry S. Johnston, the house of representatives investigating committe today planned to separate into at least three groups, each of which will follow trails uncovered by the committee as a whole.

This method of procedure was forecast yesterday when the house pased a resolution empowering the investigating committe to create a series of subcommittees from its membership, each of the sub-committes to have the power of the general committee.

While the representatives are pursuing their investigation into the executive department, a committee of five senators today is expected to open a public inquiry into newspaper reports alleging corruption in connection with the sudden dispersal of senate members, last winter, during an attempted impeachment session.

Digressing from time to time, the investigating commttee of the house took up numerous trails, only to return frequently to the question which has occupied a major portion of the investigation—the issuance, by the governor, of a pardon to a convicted murderer.

Pardon Mistake.

The pardon of Dewey Crosthwaite, which witnesses have said Governor Johnston admitted was "the greatest mistake" he has made, was brought into the investigation again by H. E. Sullivan, secretary to the governor.

Crosthwaite had been convicted of killing an Oklahoma City school teacher, had been paroled by J. C. Walton, former governor, and had failed to return to prison at the expiration of the parole. He was listed as a fugitive.

Employment of Buck Eldridge, keeper of the Yellow Dog Saloon at Perry, Okla., in territorial days, by Governor Johnston as a state detective, also attracted the interest of the committee. Perry is the home town of the chief executive.

J. M. Barker, head of the bureau, testified Eldridge had 'never done any work for the department."

Another Probe.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 1.—(AP) A committee of five senators, to conduct an investigation of newspaper reports that $100,000 had been used to corrupt members of the senate, was appointed today by W. J. Holloway, lieutenant governor and president of the senate.

Crew is Rescued.

ROTTERDAM, Holland, Jan. 17. —(AP)—The life boat from Stallenda, which went ashore last night while trying to reach the wrecked Latvian steamer Falka, was refloated today and rescued the crew of the vessel. It was while going to the assistance of the Falka that the hook of Holland lifeboat capsized and its crew of eight perished.

All told, 37 children are left fatherless by the tragedy.

KELLOGG TREATY AT CROSSROADS IN SENATE TUESDAY

SENATOR REED AND SENATOR BORAH TAKING ACTIVE INTEREST IN MATTER

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. (AP)—Early ratification of the Kellogg anti-war treaty was imminent today when the group demanding an interpretation accepted a report drafted by Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee. A poll of the committee developed a majority in favor of the report, which stipulates that it shall not be considered as a reservation to the act.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—A break in the deadlock over an interpretation of the Kellogg anti-war treaty seemed imminent today when Chairman Borah of the foreign relations committee began a poll of the committee on an interpretative report prepared by him.

Presentation of such a report has been holding up a vote on ratification. Senator Borah had as a preface to the report, however, a stipulation that it was not to be considered as a reservaion to the treaty in any way.

The senate drove ahead with debate as a delegation of women from the conference on the cause and cure of war invadd the capitol to support the pact.

The women, under leadership of their chairman, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, presented to various senators copies of more than ten thousand approving resolutions adopted throughout the states. On the senate floor the discussion revolved about the Reed resolution to have the foreign relations committee submit a report embodying the views expressed by Chairman Borah that the treaty did not infringe upon the Monroe Dostrine nor upon America's right of self-defense.

Secretary Kellogg has opposed the plan sponsored by Reed of Missouri.

Debate has developed that all parties in the treaty fight are united in support of ratification of the pact, but a group led by Senators Reed and Moses, Republican, New Hampshire, and Bingham, Republican, Connecticut, is seeking a report by the foreign relations committee explaining the treaty's effect.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)—The senate stood at the cross roads today on the Kellogg anti-war treaty. On one hand was Senator Reed's resolution for an interpretative report by the foreign relations committee on the pact. On the other was the limitation of debate sought by Senator Borah of Idaho.

The "Interpretationists" were hopeful for adoption of their resolution as they went forward toward bringing it before the senate They declared they did not seek to send the report to the other powers but simply to have a formal report made by the foreign relations committee of the views expressed by its chairman. Senator Borah, that the treaty did not infringe upon the Monroe doctrine, nor upon the nation's right of self defense.

During the debate yesterday Senator Borah revealed that at one time he and Secretary Kellogg were willing that such a report be made.

Borah said that before this could be done the proposal was made that the report be sent to the other nations signing the pact and that he balked at this.

In explanation of his opinion to such a report now, Senator Borah declared proceedings in the senate had created the idea in the minds of other governments that any interpretation of the treaty by the senate would be in effect a reservation.

Women Start Work On Treaty Message

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15. —(AP)— Predicting that sooner or later the Kellogg anti-war treaty will be ratified, several hundred women delegates to the conference on the cause and cure of war here organized today a concerted move on the capitol to submit to the senate ten national women's organization's endorsement of the pact.

Armed with more than ten thousand resolutions adopted in all parts of the country, 33 state delegations arranged to concentrate their attack on those senators who are signers of the Round-Robin petition for an interpretative report of the Kellogg treaty.

War Department Bill Passed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)— With its figures altered to include a $10,000,000 appropriation for the inland water ways corporation, the war department supply bill was passed today by the house. The $448,000,000 measure now goes to the senate.

Banners Oppose Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—(AP)— Banners criticizing the Kellogg anti-war treaty borne by women who said they represented workers' organizations, greeted delegates to the conference on the cause and cure of war when they left the capitol today after urging ratification of the treaty upon various senators.

The banners, waved in the faces of the delegation, were inscribed: "Pacifism Is the Fig Leaf of Imperialism," and "Tools of War, Not of Peace; the League of Nations, the World Court, the Dawes Plan, the Kellogg Peace Pact."

Says Ratification Has Been Nullified

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Declaration that the senate's ratification of the Kellogg peace pact is nullified by its consideration of the cruiser bill was heard today by the conference on the cause and cure of war.

Charging that "the state departments follows the dollar," professor John Howard Latane, head of the department of law of Johns Hopkins University, said in a prepared address that American naval construction is determined solely by the size of American investments abroad, not by peace treaties or agreements.

YOUTHFUL NAMESAKE OF NEXT PRESIDENT VISITS SUN OFFICE

CORSICANA'S OWN HERBERT HOOVER AND PARTY EXPRESS APPRECIATION

Usually newspaper men have to seek an interview with great personages, but there are exceptions to all rules as was demonstrated Tuesday morning when the members of the Daily Sun were honored with an introduction to Herbert Hoover, who called at the office. This young man, Corsicana's own Herbert Hoover, with four of his classmates, pupils of Miss Sallie Evans, came by the Sun office Tuesday morning to express his thanks and appreciation for the article which appeared in Saturday's Daily Sun along with his picture.

Herbert was introduced to the Sun force by Talmadge Main in a well prepared introductory address. In his address Talmadge stated that the young man whom he was to introduce was named after the president-elect of the United States while he (Talmadge) had the name of a famous preacher.

Preston Taylor, another member of the party, after the introductory speech had been made and Herbert had expressed appreciation for the article, made several inquiries about how the paper was printed, how many were printed and other things concerning the issuing of a daily newspaper. The questions were gladly answered and the boy went away with an unusual amount of knowledge concerning the workings of a daily newspaper plant.

Myrtle Marie Metcalf and Bettie Garland were the feminine members of the party and of course had quite a lot to do with carrying out the program as planned.

Teague Basketball Team Lost Twice

TEAGUE, Jan. 15.—(Spl.)—The Teague basketball quintet is not in the highest of spirits, having met with two defeats last week. Mexia defeated Teague by a large score, and on Thursday night Fairfield defeated the local team 19 to 8. Teague was to play Dew on Friday afternoon, but due to illness on the part of Dew players, the Dew coach called off the game.

State Highway to Be Sought Running Mart to Groesbeck

GROESBECK, Jan. 15.—(Spl.)—A state highway from a point near Mart to Groesbeck will be asked by a committee of the Groesbeck Chamber which is to appear before the state highway commission soon.

The road will connect with the Mart to Waco road and will give Groesbeck a direct road to Waco via Mart. The present grade is in good condition and the main road from the Limestone county seat to Waco.

OPINION BUSINESS MEN SOUGHT REGARD ROAD CONSTRUCTION

The opinion of American business men is sought on questions relating to state and local highway administrstion in a referendum from the United States Chamber of Commerce Monday by the local chamber.

Policies of the National Chamber are arrived at through such referenda submitted for study and decision to local chambers throughout the United States. The document was submitted to the directors of the Corsicana Chamber at their meeting Tuesday.

Of the seven questions submitted in the referendum one of the principal proposals deals with the theory that the construction and maintenance of highways should be financed as far as possible by highway users.

J. N. EDENS ELECTED PRESIDENT COUNTRY CLUB MONDAY NIGHT

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corsicana Country club Monday night at the club house J. N. Edens was elected president. W. C. Stroube was named vice-president and Walter Fendley, secretary-treasurer.

The new board of directors include W. C. Stroube, Fred M. Allison and Mark DeWitt. The retiring directors were H. R. Stroube, J. E. Butler and J. N. Garrity. J. E. Butler retired as president and Randolph Jackson resigned as secretary-treasurer.

A number of matters concerning the revising of certain rules and regulations governing the operation of the club were discussed and recommendations in connection with changes were made to the new board of directors. No action has yet been taken.

All departments of the club were reported to be in excellent condition.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MIKE HOWARD TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for Mike Howard, aged 69 years, native of Navarro county and veteran officeholder and school teacher of this section, who died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. W. Bridges, in Waco Sunday night after a short illness with influenza, were held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from the First Baptist church with burial in Oakwood cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. Howard Williams, pastor of the First Baptist church. The body arrived in Corsicana Tuesday morning at 9.25 and was taken to the Sutherland Undertaking parlors where it remained unil the funeral hour.

"Uncle Mike" as he was familiarly known to thousands of Navarro county people, was born at Dresden. He taught school in practically every section of the county and had been in politics for almost half a century. Among the offices held by him were constable, justice of the peace, county clerk, district clerk, superintendent. He retired from the district clerkship Jan 1. and went to Waco to make his home with his daughter.

Mr. Howard was admitted to the bar in the 90s but never practiced law.

Suriviving are a son, Dr. Rex Z. Howard, Fort Worth; and a daughter, Mrs. E. W. Bridges, Waco.

Active pallbearers were Judge Hawkins Scarborough, W. M. Taylor, W. L. Pevehouse, Dr. W. H. Dunn, J. M. Tullos and Judge H. S. Melear.

Honorary pallbearers were his friends and the friends of the family.

ALLISON CONFERS ON JUNIOR COLLEGE MATTER IN AUSTIN

A. A. Allison, chairman of the Navarro County Junior College committee, and of the Chamber of Commerce educational committee, was in Austin, Monday conferring on the proposed Junior college legislation.

Mr. Allison left Sunday in response to a telegram from Representative Ernest Cox explaining that friends of the Junior college movement would hold a conference Monday to determine the type of bill to be presented and ways and means of successful passage.

Within the past three years Mr. Allison, as chairman of the educational committee, has given a great deal of time to this movement for bringing two years of college work closer home and extending the opportunities of education to boys and girls who do not have the financial means of attending schools at a distance.

SEVEN DIRECTORS CHAMBER COMMERCE BE ELECTED SOON

Seven directors are to be elected to the board of the Chamber of Commerce within the next few weeks. These directors will be elected for two years and will serve with eight present holdovers.

According to the new constitution voted by the members early last year, the method of election will be by mail ballot, each member of the Chamber of Commerce receiving a copy.

Under the next plan the president of the Chamber names a nominating committee of five members, not more than two of whom shall be from the present board of directors. This committee canvasses the membership roll and nominates a list of fourteen men, or twice the number to be elected. The voting members may select seven names from this group as his choice or may exercise the privilege of writing in any other members he may desire. A period of five days is given for the return of the ballots, which are then canvassed by a committee of judges.

After the election of the new directors, the newly constituted board then meets and elects the various officers of the Chamber. The board may elect a president and two vice-presidents either from among their own number or from the membership itself. The provision making it possible for the directors to elect officers from the membership at large gives a considerably broader field to choose from than the old method of electing the officers from members of the board. When finally constituted the board will consist of eighteen members, fifteen elected by the membership and three appointed by the president or as officers chosen outside the original board personnel.

The chamber of commerce is run as a democratic organization and members are requested to promptly send in their ballots when received.

"Teach your dollars to have more cents"

Here we have a housewife who has learned the money saving possibilities of ad reading. You, too, will find that a little time spent in reading the ads each day will save many useless steps--hours of your time and energy as well as that commodity which most vitally concerns you--your money.

Reading the various announcements of the Corsicana merchants each day keeps you well posted on what TODAY'S market affords and this knowledge enables you to make those timely purchases that tend to keep down household expenses; it helps you to make your dollars more productive, which is, in reality, saving money.
